California Private Patrol Operator internal record

Record control

Incident ID		Report version / supplement

Purpose and completion

Use this form for on-duty physical force or contact, a firearm display or discharge, other weapon use, restraint or detention, injury, complaint, property damage, arrest, or another significant safety event. Record personal observations separately from information reported by others; use exact words when recalled and identify estimates or unknowns.

This internal record does not replace the current BSIS Incident Report form, a required law-enforcement report, or other required notice. Do not delay emergency care or required notifications to complete it. Preserve original records; correct an earlier account through a dated supplement rather than overwriting it.

6 Supervisor and reporting review

Complete promptly. This page tracks factual completeness and reporting routes; it is not a legal finding. Consult current BSIS instructions and counsel when a trigger, license type, deadline, or recipient is uncertain.

California PPO reporting tracker

Potential duty	Trigger and deadline	Owner / due	Filed / recipient / receipt
Guard notice to employer - BPC 7583.3(d)	For an on-duty firearm discharge in course and scope, the guard reports the circumstances to the employer within 24 hours.
BSIS report - BPC 7583.2(f)	Firearm discharge or qualifying on-duty physical altercation: report to BSIS within 7 business days. Triggers include arrest, public police report, public first aid or medical attention, employer discipline, or physical use of force or violence on a person while on duty. A hospital-requested patient-restraint exception may apply.
BSIS and local law enforcement - BPC 7583.4	For any firearm discharge in course and scope, use the prescribed report to BSIS and provide a copy to the local police or sheriff with jurisdiction within 7 days.

These provisions can overlap. Use the current official BSIS form and verify applicable deadlines. A company report or emergency call does not replace a required filing. For other deadly-weapon use or a firearm display without discharge, assess reporting under current BSIS instructions and applicable law.

7 California reporting notes and sources

Scope

Prepared for a California licensed Private Patrol Operator (PPO) employing BSIS-registered security guards. This internal fact-gathering form reflects statutory fields and BSIS materials reviewed October 20, 2026. A different license type or employment arrangement may have different reporting rules and forms.

Key reporting points

- Business and Professions Code section 7583.3(d): a guard must report the circumstances of an on-duty firearm discharge to the employer within 24 hours.

- Business and Professions Code section 7583.2(f): a PPO reports a firearm discharge or qualifying physical altercation to BSIS within 7 business days. Physical-altercation triggers include arrest, a police report filed by a member of the public, first aid or other medical attention to a member of the public, employer discipline, or physical use of force or violence on any person while on duty. A narrow hospital-requested patient-restraint exception is in the statute.

- Business and Professions Code section 7583.4: firearm-discharge reporting uses the prescribed form to BSIS and a copy goes to the local police or sheriff with jurisdiction within 7 days. Minimum fields include guard name, address, date of birth, registration and permit numbers, employer, injuries or damages, participant identities, police investigation status, and incident date and location.

- This internal form captures additional review facts. It does not replace the current BSIS form or another required report. Check current official forms and submission instructions.
